

REGISTRATION AT A MEDICAL INSTITUTION

There are two types of medical institutions in Lithuania – state and private. In the private ones, the services are provided for a full price, while in the state ones, most of the services are free of charge, but for that you need to be covered by the Compulsory Health Insurance (privalomasis sveikatos draudimas – PSD).

How to choose a clinic and get registered at one?

1. Usually, people choose a clinic based on their place of residence. At the time of registration, you can also choose a family doctor.
2. Before registering, it is advisable to check if you have the Compulsory Health Insurance (PSD). Check here: <https://dpsdr.vlk.lt/PublicSearch.aspx>. On this website, you need to enter your date of birth and the last four digits of the personal code.
Automatically covered by the Compulsory Health Insurance are employed persons (insurance being paid for by the employer), students (insurance being paid for by the university), persons registered with the Employment Services (state-funded insurance), refugees participating in the integration program (state-funded insurance). To know more about health insurance, contact "SODRA" (State Social Insurance Fund Board under the Ministry of Social Security and Labour) consultants.
3. To fill the application for registration at a clinic, visit the clinic directly, and approach the head of the department or the administration office. It is advisable to carry a Lithuanian residence permit and a few Euros for the toll fee. In Vilnius, "Karoliniskės" clinic (Karoliniškių poliklinika) allows registration by email, and "Centras" clinic (Centro poliklinika) allows registration online using a login on E-Government Gateway (via the Smart-ID App installed at the bank).
4. After registering at the polyclinic, it is possible to book an appointment. Simply call the reception or book online <https://ipr.segu.lt/#/> (a login on E-Government Gateway required).
